Keeping in Society.

Most of the people of San Francisco spend their time starving themselves almost death, and scrimping even the necessities of life in order to purchase clothes, that they may occasionally see their names in the Call or Chronicle, as taking part in some society event. Dickens very pointedly observes:

A large portion of the comedies and tragedies of life spring from our tendency to live beyond our means; and we live beyond our means merely to keep up a visiting acquaintance with persons whom we either positively hate or for whom we have not the slightest sympathy.

Steamer Notice.

LOCAL NOTES.

The Mint hands were paid off yesterday.

Major Dennis was in the city yesterday.

Work has begun on the 250 level of Sierra Nevada.

The work has begun on the rock for the State Printing Office.

The middle mines were booming yesterday, Norcross reached 10 1/2.

The twelve Eureka miners indicted by the Grand Jury have been arrested.

Folsom & Dunn are selling oats, wheat and ground barley, at 2 1/2 cts. per pound, respectively.

The case of Mrs. Chapman vs. Swift comes up in the District Court today at 10 o'clock.

Eclipse Extra Dry is the only native Champagne equal to any imported, and but half the price.

Rockefort is crying for the head of the French Premier, Ferry, for his many and "unexcusable blunders in Tonquin."

The millinery rivalry in Carson has resulted in an extra stock of goods making their appearance in the shop windows.

The water case of Mrs. Walsh against the city has been postponed until May 4th. The recent decision of the Supreme Court is greatly in her favor.

Large quantities of trout are being taken from Clear Lake with hook and line. One party of two gentlemen and one lady recently caught 700 in two days.

The Reveille complains that the Chinamen are in the habit of dragging seins in Reese river, catching fish of all sizes. They do this sort of fishing in the night.

For Banquets Dinners and Parties use Eclipse Extra Dry, it is equal to any and superior to most imported brands, and the only natural California champagne in the market.

The road between Murray and Myrtle, Coeur d'Alene mountains, is now termed the "Sky Trail." A miner swears the last time he traveled over it he heard the angels singing a lullaby.

The Truckee Meadows ranchers are not the only ones who are complaining about the saw-dust nuisance. People living on the creeks of Modoc Co., Cal., are being subjected to the same annoyance.

W. H. Chedie has added to his already large stock of drugs and chemicals, a full assortment of garden and field seeds, which can be had in quantities to suit. Call and examine.

The Reno Democrats seem to think that Governor Adams will not be renominated, and that either John Bradley, Hock Mason or Jerry Schooling will be the Democratic nominee for Governor next year.

It is reported on good authority that a new strike has been made in a ledge of the Pittsburg consolidated mine at Lewis, that discloses ore so rich in gold that the precious metal can be plainly seen with the naked eye all through the quartz.

It is thought that the Mahdi had a mad eye because someone sent his wife a piece of dress goods with M. Cohn's brand on it, and it turned out that it came from a Reno house. The old woman made it so warm for the Chief that he wanted to disband the army.

There is some doubt about Clarence Grey, being the real name of the man who murdered Scott. In an outhouse in this city is a couple of verses of foolish poetry, with the name of Clarence Grey signed. Men who like to scrawl their names in such places always put down the real one.

Complaints for several years have been heard concerning the inefficiency of the postal service between Reno and Carson, and last evening a postal card was received here which was mailed in Carson on the 27th of March. As the distance is only 31 miles, nine days cannot be regarded as particularly fast time.—Gazette.

Pizen Switch has organized a military company, known as "Co. I" with A. W. Brann, Captain; B. F. Scott, First Lieutenant and Chester Holland, Second Lieutenant. The above officers were duly commissioned by the Governor April 4th, and the army of the Walkerfield is now thoroughly organized and prepared for war.

TELLING REVENGE.

A Reminiscence of an old Poem.

On Sunday last the APPEAL published a poem on New Orleans, written by Ella Wheeler. It was a piece of fine descriptive verse and represented a beautiful city that was backward in the march of progress. At the close were these suggestive lines.

And reaching out her shapely unwashed arms,
She clasps her rightful brother—
Pestilence.

The poem has been going the rounds for some weeks, and a good many people who had intended to go to the Exposition have decided not to, fearing the yellow fever. Just now the sanitary condition of the city is good and there is no yellow fever, but the idea has gotten abroad, through the poem, and it has knocked the Exposition financially, out of perhaps half a million. The history of the poem is that Miss Ella Wheeler asked some favors of the management of the Exposition and was snubbed. She put in half an hour on the poem, and as a result it has been a telling set-back to New Orleans.

This calls to mind a similar case which gave Omaha a black eye.

When Dan O'Connell, the San Francisco journalist, came West he called at the U. P. R. R. office at Omaha and asked for a pass.

They refused the pass, and snubbed Mr. O'Connell. Dan paid his fare and on the train wrote the famous poem. It began something like this:

Say, hast thou been to Omaha?
Where rolls the dark Missouri down?
Where the houses are all afloat,
And the steamers are all aground?

Where the gin-mills all night long,
Peddle out their pizen juice?
Where the men are always tight,
And the women are mostly loose?

Etc., etc., a dozen verses like the above.

It traveled far and wide, and about every paper in the United States published it. Whenever the name of Omaha was mentioned some one would quote a verse of the poem. The real estate dealers of the city were working up a big scheme to sell city lots in the East, and this poem settled the business. They could not give a lot away. Its effect was noticeable for years, and it no doubt indirectly injured Omaha a million dollars.

George Francis Train had a good deal of real estate there then, and he frequently said he would have given $10,000 cash to have seen the manuscript of the poem before it was published, and burned it.

Dan had many a good chuckle over the effect of his poem, and it actually puts fat on his ribs today.

Official Advertisements.

Attention is called to a number of official advertisements on the first page of the APPEAL.

The quarterly report of the Auditor and Treasurer shows an itemized account of the county finances during the last three months, and is printed for the benefit of the taxpayers.

The Board of Examiners of the State publish an advertisement relating to Indian war claims. Claimants having bills against the State from losses suffered in the Indian war are notified to present them during the next sixty days.

The county of Ormsby publishes a notice to those whose taxes are delinquent. They must be paid before May 8th or the property will be forfeited.

The city publishes ordinances No. 67 and 68, one relating to the dog nuisance and the other forbidding the sale of firearms to minors.

The United States Government calls for proposals for transportation of military supplies and also proposals for wood and coal to be delivered to J. D. Bingham, Assistant Quartermaster General, at the Presidio of San Francisco. Some of these supplies are to be delivered at Forts Halleck and McDermitt, in this State.

A Cambrous Currency.

The Maria Theresa dollar is the only coin known in Abyssinia. Cloth and bars of rock salt ten inches long and two inches wide and deep, bound with a reed, serve as their ordinary means of barter. A recent traveler says that he made everlasting friendship with a village chief by making him a present of an empty Worcester sauce bottle, the glass stopper appearing to be a source of delight and comfort to him.

The nomination of Pears pleases the World, Times and other journals, but the rank and file of the Democratic spoilsman are struck dumb with amazement, and declare the President has lost the State of New York next Fall by 50,000.

The Sun's Washington special says: The situation may be summed up tersely in the language of a prominent member of the Democratic National Committee: "It will send a cold chill down the back of every Democrat from Maine to Texas."

The Sun says: A notice was posted yesterday in the public stores on Washington street that, beginning with today, business hours will be from eight to five. The order, which Deputy Collector Jones signed, tacks an extra hour on the working day. It is the new Democratic rule but the Republican employes didn't kick.

Rolled-gold jewelry is a fiction. The term was invented for the purpose of giving the public the impression that the goods so sold were solid gold, but that by reason of its being rolled the cost of manufacture was greatly cheapened. This idea caught the public fancy, and the trade assumed enormous proportions. As the demand for this kind of jewelry increased, the demand for solid gold decreased, and at the present time there are only a few of the old established houses which deal exclusively in the pure metal. Properly speaking all gold used by jewelers is rolled into plates or drawn into wire before it is shaped into any particular style of jewelry, and that which is understood by the public generally as rolled gold is known to the trade as rolled plate.

The fact that the death of a human being occurred in California from the horrible disease known as glanders should awaken general attention to the need of promptly destroying all domestic animals afflicted with the malady. Glanders is sure death, and it is folly to attempt its cure. The man who lately lost his life at Petaluma, from the disease, laughed when told that his horse had it, and to show his unconcern, drank from the same bucket used by the animal. In two weeks the man was dead. His fate should be a terrible warning to horse owners.

New Jersey has put herself in line with the States who have erected whipping posts for wife beaters. Her legislature passed the necessary bill by the decisive vote of thirty-nine to thirteen. In spite of the general sentiment that such laws are brutal and a step backward in view of our civilization, it seems that men have pretty generally made up their minds that some adequate measures shall be resorted to, to lessen the evil. They seem to care very little how disgraceful the punishment is, their determination appears to be to make the offence unpopular.

E. T. George, ex-Speaker of the Assembly, who was arrested for violating the Anti-treating Act, pleaded ignorance of the law and claimed that no such law had been passed by the recent Legislature, and as the Honorable Court had interviewed a number of the returned members in regard to it, and none of them knew anything about such a law having been made, he at once discharged the prisoner, and fined the constable the drinks for all hands.

Dr. Becker, of the Pacific Division of the United States Geological Survey, will shortly visit Steamboat Springs, with a party. There is a deposit of cinnabar forming in these springs, and a thorough study of the district, it is expected, will throw light on the origin of the quicksilver deposits. A report will be issued from Washington, in about a year, containing the result of these investigations.

Pasturage

I have 350 acres of good pasturage and first class water facilities, at the old Conner ranch on the State Prison road. Am prepared to pasture cattle and horses, and will make a specialty of milch cows.

Cows taken to and from any part of the city, morning and evening, by competent drivers and pastured for $2 a month. Inquire on the premises, or leave orders at Rosser's butcher shop.
